Tremendous Battle Is Raging Furiously on Somme Battlefront

The struggle in the Somme region of northern France, renewed violently with the heavy Anglo-French attack of Thursday which Berlin declares achieved virtually no success, is being kept up by the Germans themselves. Last night they counter-attacked strongly the French line south of Ablaincourt and neighboring trenches. Paris asserts, however, that a counter attack which followed immediately resulted in the recapture of all the ground.

There has been further fighting north of the Somme, where the French claim an advance on Malassie ridge along the road from Bouchevignes to Moislains.

A cessation of important operations along the British front east of the Struma river in Macedonia is indicated by today's official statement from London, which announces that nothing has occurred worth reporting. The Bulgarians, who have fallen back to the Serres-Dimitriou road, are said to be massed in strong force along this line.

French Recapture Ground.
Paris, Oct. 14, noon.—The Germans delivered a strong attack last night on Ablaincourt, south of the river Somme, and recaptured part of the village as well as a trench north of it. It was officially announced here today. The French immediately launched a counter attack. By this move they recaptured all the ground which had been won by the Germans.

North of the Somme the French made progress on Malassie ridge north of Bouchevignes.

Germans Gain Ground.
Berlin, Oct. 14, via London, 4:12 p. m.—The battle between French and German troops for the town of Ablaincourt, south of the river Somme, has been revived with German successes, says the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters staff. The Germans have gained a portion of Ambos wood and have taken 400 prisoners.

Teutonic Advance Continues.
Vienna, Friday, Oct. 13, via London, Oct. 14, 11:45 a. m.—The Teutonic advance in Transylvania is continuing, and the Rumanians have been driven from the upper Alt and Maros valleys into the frontier mountains, says today's war office statement. Progress is also being made against the Rumanian forces in the Kronstadt region.

The statement follows:
"Fighting in the region of Kronstadt is taking a course favorable to us. Yesterday one Rumanian officer, 170 men and two guns were captured."
"On the eastern Transylvania frontier we drove the enemy from the valleys of the upper Alt and the upper Maros to the frontier mountains."
"North of Kirilbaba (Carpathians) a Russian advance was repulsed after hand grenade fighting."

Millions Killed.
Berlin, Oct. 14.—By wireless to Saxville.—British and French divisions with a total of more than one million men have been virtually annihilated in the Somme battle, says the military critic of the Overseas News agency. According to figures from Swiss sources, as given by the news agency, the Russian losses from June 11 to October 2 were about one million men.

The news agency's military critic writes:
"The heavy sacrifices made by the British and French for the recapture of each square yard on the Somme is proved by the fact that in three and one-half months about ninety fresh divisions were virtually annihilated, so that it was necessary to withdraw them forever. (Ninety divisions represents a total of considerably more than 1,000,000 men. There are about 12,000 men in a French division and 19,000 in a British division.)"
"These divisions disappeared completely from battle. Fifty-five divisions in consequence of their great losses, were able to engage in combat only twice, fifteen divisions three times and only one was able to engage in combat four times. Four divisions had suffered severely after their second engagement that it was necessary to send them to quiet sectors, but on critical days they were again thrown in."

KING OF GREECE IN GRAVE FEAR

Predicted That Rumania Would Be Crushed by Teutons in 15 Days.

London, Oct. 14.—"When a high diplomatic personage besought King Constantine to change his policy," says the Daily Telegraph's Athens correspondent, "the king replied: 'I prefer to lose my throne rather than endanger Greece. I am convinced that in fifteen days Rumania will exist no more. If Greece went into the war, then, after the conquest of Rumania, the irresistible German forces would be directed against Greece and she would share the fate of Serbia and Rumania.'"

According to the Athenian dispatches received here the entente allies sent their ultimatum to Greece because they had unearthed a Royalist plot to fight the entente. It was planned, the dispatches add, that if the allies should seek to coerce Greece into joining them and try to force Eleutherios Venizelos upon King Constantine, the king should retire northward along the railway, taking the troops with him, concentrate at Trikala, in Thessaly, and entrench there until the arrival of the German forces, when he would strike in unison with the allies.

GREECE ACCEPTS LATEST DEMANDS OF ENTENTE

London, Oct. 13, 9:14 p. m.—"Admiral Du Fournet, commander of the Anglo-French fleet," says a Reuter dispatch from Athens, "yesterday addressed the supplementary note to the Greek government, demanding on behalf of the allies, the control of the Greek police, the prohibition of Greek citizens from carrying arms, the stopping of sending war munitions to Thessaly, and the lifting of the embargo on the transportation of Thessalian wheat. The Greek cabinet sat with the chief of the general staff until midnight discussing the note. The council was resumed in the morning, when all the demands of Admiral Du Fournet were granted."

"The British minister here has visited M. Zolotas, the new Greek foreign minister, whereby the entente recognizes the new cabinet."

Denison, Iowa, Oct. 14.—A lawsuit over the division of a large estate hanging over the question of who died first, Mr. August Meyer, or his wife, both of whom were killed in a railroad wreck near Culbertson, Neb., three years ago, was started in district court here today. Both were taken from the wreck dead and it is claimed that the only evidence indicating which of the two died first was the position the bodies were found in when they were taken from the car before the wreck occurred.

TEN DAYS FOR AN ABUSIVE FELLOW

C. H. Barnard, described by Patrolman C. P. Fitzgerald as "the dirtiest mouthed human I ever had anything to do with," was sentenced this morning by Municipal Judge Barker to serve ten days in jail. He was taken into custody by the patrolman at Twenty-sixth street and Wall avenue yesterday afternoon in a vile condition of drunkenness and, in addition to fouling abusing his captor, attacked and scratched him on the neck.

Thomas Davis, another abusive drunk, was also given a 10-day sentence.

Stanley Jenkins, John Sweeney, W. L. Coughran and Charles Parson, plain drunks, were each sentenced to serve 15 days in jail. Coughran was trying to sell a pair of new shoes at a second-hand store to obtain money for more "booze," when arrested, and Parson had just completed staging an impromptu acrobatic act in the Reception Bar saloon. The latter is a former circus acrobat and, following his performance in the saloon, passed the hat.

Charles Buck, arrested on lower Twenty-fifth street last night by Patrolman Walter Moore on a charge of disturbing the peace, forfeited $20 bail. John Martin, an alleged drunk, forfeited $5 bail.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 14.—Prominent Republican leaders and rank and file members of the party gathered in Lincoln today to greet Charles E. Hughes, who reaches here at 8 o'clock this evening to speak and spend Sunday. A parade of bands and torches will meet the candidate at the station and escort him through the streets. At 8:30 Mr. Hughes will speak at the city auditorium. Former United States Senator E. J. Burkett will preside and introduce Mr. Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will spend Sunday resting at a hotel.

An automobile will be at their disposal, but they will hold no receptions.

A total of more than 15,000 prisoners have been taken by the Rumanians in their war operations to date, the statement says.

STEAMER FLEET LEAVES NEW YORK

United States Destroyers Hunting Along North Atlantic Coast for Secret Base.

New York, Oct. 14.—The largest fleet of steamships that has left this port since the submarine raid off Nantucket last Sunday, is due to sail today, while United States destroyers are hunting along the North Atlantic coast for a secret base for German submarines. Captains of incoming steamers were eagerly questioned by skippers of outward bound vessels for any information of the German submarine and with small success. All pursued zig zag courses.

Among the liners ready to leave here today are: The St. Louis of the American line for Liverpool with a fair complement of passengers, the French liner Espagne for Bordeaux, the liner Stockholm for Gothenburg, the Re D'Italia for Genoa, and the Anchor liner Cameronia for Halifax.

In addition to these twenty-six other steamers had cleared for departure today.

Steamers Leave Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 14.—About a dozen steamships in the trans-Atlantic service which have been held up here for the past week because of the German submarine menace along the coast, sailed today. Most of them carried cargoes of munitions or other military supplies for the allies. Among the ships that left were the British steamers Crown Point, Georgia for Brest, Minnesota, Saxonian, Arab and the French steamer Ville d'Alger and the Japanese steamer Nankai Maru.

WILSON SPEAKS AT LONG BRANCH

Republican Talkers Making Promises by Nominee Makes No Pledges for Future.

PROGRESSIVES PRAISED

No Group of Men Ever More Pitifully Deceived by Party Leaders.

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 14.—"The most interesting element of the Republican party now is the vocal," said the president. "If their leaders want Americans to get their rights everywhere, why don't the rank and file of the Republicans help them to get their rights?"

"The president praised the 'rank and file' of the Progressive party, saying no group of men were 'ever more pitifully deceived.' He attacked the leaders of that party."

"Political Gangs Seek Power."
"The Democratic party in the last few years has redeemed the promises of the Progressive party and of the Democratic party," Mr. Wilson added. He discussed conditions in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, saying the old "political gangs" are seeking a return to power.

"You have seen the gentlemen who claim to lead the Progressive element of the Republican party make an abject surrender," the president declared. He added this had happened all over the country. He attacked what he termed the "corrupt elements" of the Republican party.

"If their leaders want Americans to get their rights everywhere, why don't the rank and file of the Republicans help them to get their rights?" asked the president, after alluding to the Republicans who voted to warn Americans off armed ships.

Mr. Wilson for the first time spoke of the necessity for electing a Democratic congress. The "old guard," he charged, controls the Republicans in congress.

Referring to criticisms of his foreign policies, the president declared the "vocal" part of the Republican party wanted war, while the "silent" part wanted peace in some other way than he had maintained it. He added the country knew it was at peace and was satisfied.

Referring to European questions and to Mexico, he said it was necessary and best that the attitude of the United States be settled.

"I am doubtful over the outcome," he said. "America is always ready to fight for things that are American," continued the president. "What Europe is beginning to realize is that we are saving ourselves for greater things. We are saving ourselves for that league of nations that will come to maintain peace."

"Some people are losing their heads," said the president, discussing the foreign affairs of the nation. "I get the impression that the great body of American people are keeping their heads."

Russian Steamer Torpedoed.
Chattanooga, Norway, Oct. 14.—Via London, 12:25 p. m.—The Russian steamer Bystritsa has been torpedoed. The Bystritsa, a steamer of 3,688 tons gross, built in 1915 was reported sailing from Archangel on August 14 for a destination not given.

Cleaning Reservoirs Where Much Silt Has Been Accumulating

Work of establishing a safeguard against contamination of Ogden's water supply was started this morning when a force of men from the fire department began the task of flushing the mud and silt from the bottom and sides of the larger of the two reservoirs on the bench lands, at the east city limits. The mud and silt represents the accumulations of more than two years, the reservoir not having been cleaned out since the completion of the new pipe line.

Commissioner Miles L. Jones, who this morning visited the scene of operations, which are under the direction of Chief Graves of the fire department, stated that he doubted if the recent mishap which let muddy water in the main pipe at the Wheeler canyon intake had resulted in increasing the depth of the deposit, which appeared in a solid layer about four inches thick.

The commissioner stated that the decision to clean the reservoir at this time of year was reached after the commission had determined that more water would be available for the flushing operations now owing to a decrease in consumption. Draining at this time, he stated, also would give the city opportunity to make needed repairs to the east wall of the reservoir which had been damaged in the month of August, when a break in the concrete at the intake allowed the water to seep in under the wall, forcing concrete up. At the apex in several bulges, large fissures appear. The damaged area includes several blocks of the concrete. The repairs will necessitate the expenditure of from $500 to $1,000.

Commissioner Jones said this could have been avoided had the contractors in building the reservoir taken the precaution to reinforce the intake aperture with steel. Just plain concrete could not stand the continued pressure.

In the flushing operations, three streams of water are kept constantly at play on the mud, driving it under power furnished by one of the auto pump and horse trucks from the central station. The fire truck is stationed on the driveway between the two reservoirs. Water from the smaller reservoir to the north is being used. Two men are stationed with the engine, which is kept in constant operation, while seven are at work in the pit, two at the effective end of the three-hose lines, and one at the outlet at the southwest corner, where the muddy water flows out to the bottom lands where it loses itself either in natural holes or by seeping into the ground.

Preparations for the flushing process were started several days ago. Practically all the water had been drained out by Thursday night.

Chief Graves said the work probably will not be completed before sometime tomorrow. He stated he proposed to press operations however, and that another shift of workers would be on hand to take up the work when the present shift went off duty.

Work of repairing the damage to the south wall will be started immediately after the flushing operations are finished. As soon as this work is completed, the water will be let in again, and attention will be turned to the smaller reservoir, which will be drained in preparation for the beginning of flushing operations there. Whatever repairs are needed in this reservoir will be made before the water is let into it again.

With the completion of this task, the city waterworks system will be moved a step nearer perfection. Commissioner Jones said the finishing touches were now being applied to the twenty-ninth well in the Huntsville district.

HARVARD DEFEATS NORTH CAROLINA

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 14.—The Harvard football team with six regulars on the side lines, defeated the University of North Carolina 21 to 0 today. The Crimson attack built about the ee-like rushes of Casey and the plunges of Horween with an occasional forward pass, accomplished two touchdowns in the first period and one in the third with resulting goals.

Mr. Hughes also assailed the administration for its Mexican policy. He declared that extension abroad of American trade would not be accomplished unless American rights were fully maintained.

Must Maintain Dignity.
"We must remember," he said, "that it is perfectly idle to ask American merchants, American engineers, American traders, the boys who go forth in the various opportunities that are afforded in connection with branch houses abroad; it is perfectly idle to ask them to go forward in the interest of American enterprises if the American flag does not mean full protection to every citizen lawfully engaged, wherever we have a recognition of the dignity of our own citizenship and are prepared to maintain our own rights. Now, I am a man of peace."

No Danger of War.
"Nothing to me is more extraordinary than the claim of this administration that it has kept us out of war. Only inexcusable blundering could have gotten us into war."

"We did not have peace in Mexico. We had war. It was an ignoble war; it was a personal war. It was not based on anything that is sanctioned by the matter of vindictiveness; to destroy the only semblance of government Mexico had."

"We have had no proper policy of peace in Mexico. I desire to see peace maintained, but it will not be maintained unless we have it understood that we do not propose to meddle with things that do not concern us, and, in the next place, that the just rights of our citizens with respect to their lives and property will be maintained."

Eight-Hour Law Gold Brick.
Wymore, Neb., Oct. 14.—At the railway junction here where the Hughes special stopped to change engines several railroad employes crowded around the rear platform. Mr. Hughes came out and waved his hand.

"Tell us about the Adamson law," some one shouted. Mr. Hughes had not intended to speak here, but accepted the invitation.

"I think this bill was a 'gold brick' for labor," he said. "That is my opinion of it. I do not think it will get labor anywhere. If wages can be raised over night in response to force properly applied, you can have wages reduced by law, sometimes over night, according to the application of the proper amount of force."

"I am absolutely opposed to dealing with things without knowledge and having legislation passed by either congress or state legislatures when the men who are passing the laws do not know whether they are just or not and do not pretend to know. That is not a fair way of doing business."

Mr. Hughes spoke for five minutes outlining his views on the law. He was interrupted twice by applause.
